Subject: Revised Validity of "Certified with conditionality" under NQAS and LaQshya.

Dear Sir/Ma'am,

You are aware that after implementation of the quality standards health, facilities undergo NQAS//Laqshya certification assessments. Facilities having few non-compliances are awarded 'Certification with conditionality' as per approved criteria. Till date, facilities certified with conditionality were expected to close the gaps within six months of declaration of result and submit evidence of gap closure to NHSRC followed by verification of the evidences by certified external assessors.

In the fifth CQSC (Central Quality Supervisory Committee) meeting held on 26th October 2020, it was decided that validity of "Certification with Conditionality" would be for one year. Then such facilities would be required to undergo complete assessment by the external assessors after one year.

It may be noted that Incentives for facilities certified with conditionality will be in the first year only.

You are requested to apply for external assessment of all the facilities that are certified with conditionality and have completed one year of certification. Facilities that have received incentives for 'Certification with conditionality' are not eligible for further incentives till they get fully certified.

Thanks and regards.

Yours Sincerely

(J.N. Srivastava)
